PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE.

Semi-Centennial Jubilee and Annual Commencement.

THE ALUMNI PARADE

Hundreds of People in Attendance—Opened on Sunday With Baccalaureate Sermon by Dr. Gregg.

DEATH OF A JUNIOR MARS EXERCISES

The semi-centennial jubilee and annual commencement exercises of the Pennsylvania State College are drawing immense crowds this week. With the delightful weather prevailing the pretty College town never looked more beautiful. The alumni is represented in larger numbers this year than ever before and the renewals of old friendships are very pleasant features of Commencement week. The streets of the town and the green carpeted campus are alive with people presenting a most animated appearance.

Sunday morning the exercises began with the eloquent baccalaureate sermon delivered by Rev. David Gregg, D. D., LL. D., President of the Western Theological Seminary, Allegheny, Pa. There was a large attendance and the sermon abounded in good thoughts and sound advice. From 6:30 to 7:30 there was an open air Y. M. C. A., meeting led by Secretary Jay Woodcock. From 8 to 9 o'clock a sacred concert was given in the Auditorium.

The first meeting for Monday was held in the auditorium with President George W. Atherton in the chair. The leading historical address was delivered by Gen. James A. Beaver, his subject being: "Early Steps Leading to the Establishment of the Farmer's High School and its Subsequent Development."

The speaker detailed how the college was started in 1855 as a farmers' high school, with barely a score of students. Its growth was slow, and in 1859 the student body numbered a very few more than fifty. The first class of eleven was graduated in 1861. In 1874, the institution having widened its scope of education, the name was changed to that of the Pennsylvania State College.

While its growth was slow, it was steady, but it was not until fifteen to twenty years ago that the college took proper hold on the people of the State, and since that time its growth has been rapid. From a student body of perhaps 200 twenty years ago, it this year had on the rolls close to 800 students, while the graduating class this week numbers about 100.

In the afternoon the exercises were held in the Chapel and owing to the outside attractions they were poorly attended which is to be greatly regretted. They were especially interesting. From the addresses of Prof. Buckhout, Prof. Hamilton and John I. Thompson Jr., many historical facts of interest were gleaned. The speakers and subjects were as follows:

"State College as Pioneer in Scientific Education," Dr. Albert H. Tuttle, (68,) of the University of Virginia; "The Administration of the First President," Dr. E. Evan Pugh, Prof. C. Alfred Smith, class of '61, of Chicago; "The place of the State College in the System of Public Education," Dr. N. C. Shaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; "The Development of Engineering in the Pennsylvania State College," Prof. D. C. Jackson, class of '85, of the University of Wisconsin; "Historical Sketch of the College from 1855 to 1905," by Prof. William A. Buckhout, class of '68, of State College; "The State College and the Military Service," John I. Thompson, Jr., class of '62; "Dr. Pugh as a Chemist," Dr. G. G. Pond; "The Relations of the Farmers' High School to Agricultural Education and Research," Dr. H. P. Armsby.

The remainder of the afternoon was taken up with a dual track and field meet between State College students and the Carlisle Indians, which State won, score 54 to 52. Monday evening the Thespian Club gave a readition of "The Boomerang" in the auditorium.

The new dormitory, McAllister's Hall, has been turned into a hotel for the accommodation of the visitors, and, notwithstanding it has a capacity of 600, it is crowded.

SAD DEATH OF A STUDENT.

A feeling of sadness was thrown over the Commencement exercises this week by the death of a member of the Junior class, Clark Plummer Stewart, of Pittsburg. He was taken ill Thursday evening and on Saturday evening was operated on for peritonitis. It was to late however and Sunday evening at 8 o'clock the young man passed away at the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity house, of which fraternity he was a member. He was a son of a Pittsburg banker, Homer C. Stewart, and was between 21 and 22 years of age.

Stewart was one of the brightest and most popular men in College. He had just successfully passed his junior examinations for entrance into the Senior year. He was one of his class officers, a Phi Gamma Delta man, leader of the College orchestra and a member of the cadet band. He was a prominent Y. M. C. A., worker also.

Funeral services were held in the Schwab Auditorium at 10:30 which the students attended, the cadets turned out in full uniform. The remains reposing in a handsome casket were brought in and Rev. J. O. Denniston, pastor of the Presbyterian church, delivered an eloquent and touching funeral sermon. The procession then started for the depot. Following the hearse were his fraternity with uncovered heads and the entire cadet battalion.

The casket bearers were members of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity as follows: W. H. McDowell, J. M. Nelson, C. R. Oberfell, P. B Van Dine, C. Eshelman and J. H. Ludwig.

The body accompanied by ten students was taken to his home in Pittsburg for interment.

Had the faculty, the student body and Alumni Association of Pennsylvania State College, had the making of the weather for this, their commencement week, they could not possibly have more ideal days than these. Tuesday was the fiftieth anniversary of the granting of the charter to the college and was celebrated by the students and the alumni. The day was designated as the semi-centennial and was turned over to the alumni of the college.

Men of 60 years and more came back to visit the old alma mater and gambol once more on the campus and forget that the years had stiffened their limbs and silvered their hair. They told of the days when State College was the farm high school and the buildings consisted of two or three wooden shacks and their campus a rock bound meadow,, which it was the duty of the students to clear.

The first business of the day for the alumni was the election of officers, as follows: President W. F. White; secretary, treasurer and historian, L. A. Harding.

Then followed a general meeting of the alumni in the magnificent auditorium erected for the college by Charles Schwab. Addresses were made by representatives of various classes which have been graduated from State College since 1860.

The addresses of welcome were delivered by President Atherton and A. A. Patterson, of the class of '89 responded.

ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE COLLEGE.

"The old Farmers' High School was the germ of our dear old State College" said Dr. Atherton, "and was the first of the colleges to start the magnificent work of technical and practical work which has now come to be recognized as the true collegiate course. There are now in the United States sixty-four colleges engaged in the same line of work and they are all good colleges but when great problems of mechanics or engineering arise, it is always an old 'Old State' boy who is called upon to do the work'

"Great men in their lines, have been turned out of these halls of sweet memory and the names of the men who have carried the fame and the name of our college should be embalmed in our archives and on tablets which shall endure for the years to come, an inspiration and an incentive to which the students who will continue the work so well begun.

"When it was proposed to utilize the giant power of Niagara Falls numerous plans were laid before the committee in charge of the work, but it was the plan of a State College boy that was accepted and utilized. The name of the man was Gilbert White. When the growing and enterprising city of Omaha wanted a plan proposed for the lighting of her streets, it was the brother of Gilbert White, W. F. White, whose plans were adopted.

"Every time a train passes through the wonderful subway in the city of New York it is a tribute to another man who gained his knowledge in the halls of State College and who schemed

RECORD OF DEATHS

Those Who Have Gone to Their Final Reward.

CHAIRS ARE VACANT

Michael Conley, George McGinley. F. L. Beckel and Many Others.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF DEPARTED

MICHAEL CONLEY.

Michael Conley, Division foreman of the New York Central at Gillintown suffered a stroke of apoplexy and expired almost instantly Monday at his home in the above mentioned town.

The deceased was aged about 65 years and had many warm friends in Bellefonte who will be sorry to hear of his untimely death. He was a railroader of great ability, having worked on many of the large railroad contracts throughout the United States. Under the direction of the Collins Brothers he laid out and built the Bellefonte Central from Bellefonte to State College and for a number of years after filled the capacity of foreman, later going to Gillintown he entered the employ of the New York Central in the same capacity.

About 16 years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Julia Powers of Bellefonte, who survives him with the following children all at home; Mary, John, Vacy, Joseph, Julia, Katharine, James.

He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church at Snow Shoe

GEO. MCGINLEY.

George McGinley a highly respected resident of Howard passed away at his home in that place Thursday evening at 11 o'clock.

He had been a patient sufferer with stomach trouble since last September, all that medical skill and kind hands could do, were done but to no avail and he passed peacefully away at the time above stated.

He was united in marriage with Miss Margaret Weiland of McCoy's Works, who with two children, Mrs. Miles Shultz of Bellefonte and Daniel McGinley of Mileaburg survive to mourn the loss of an affectionate husband and father. He also leaves his aged mother Mrs. Elizabeth McKinley of McCoy's works; and the following brothers and sisters, John of Williamsport; James of McCoy's Works; Samuel of Pleasant View; Lucian of Yeagertown and Mrs. R. H. Brown of Bellefonte.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon from the Evangelical church at Howard of which deceased was a member Rev. Shultz officiating interment in the cemetery at Howard.

F. L. BECKEL.

Mr. Frank L. Beckel a prominent resident of Granville, Ohio; died Friday evening June 2nd at his home in Mt. Parnassus.

His death was due to a stroke of paralysis caused by excitement while witnessing a game of base ball. For a number of years he was employed as a traveling salesman for the J. J. Blair Company tablets and stationery, of Huntingdon, Pa., and was considered one of the ablest men in the employ of the company.

He was a sincere christian gentleman, a member of the Presbyterian church, and is survived by his wife and three children also the following brothers and sisters: William, Edward and Miss May Beckel of Bethlehem, Pa., and Mrs. R. C. Crittenden of Bellefonte and is an uncle of Mrs. B. H. Crider also of Bellefonte.

The funeral which took place Monday June 5th was conducted by the Centre Star Lodge No. 11 F. and A. M. of Granville and St. Luke's Commandery, No. 34 Knight's Templar of Newark, acted as an escort of which organizations the deceased was a prominent member.

Married.

Simon Hockenberry and Miss Mary M. Emenhizer, both of Bellefonte, were married by Alderman John P. Anthony, of Lock Haven, on Saturday evening.

A Trip to the West.

The following letter written by Mrs. Lide Cambridge Earon, of Unionville, who is now making a trip through the West, will be read with interest by many of our readers.

EDITOR OF THE REPUBLICAN:—Enclosed is a short sketch of my trip to Tenn. to visit my brother Dr. Cambridge. Left Unionville June 3, at 9 a.m. reached Lock Haven on time, there I found the train east two hours late. After leaving Williamsport the scenery was grand all the way to Harrisburg. Time passed rapidly; arrived at Harrisburg at 4 p. m leaving on the 5.15 train; reached Baltimore just as it was getting dark, from there to Washington was only a few hours ride. Not caring to travel on the Lord's day I remained in the Capital city until midnight, leaving on the 12.12 train over the Southern Railway making a stop at Port Alexander, Linchburg and Roanoke, Va. At this place the sun was rising the most beautiful sight anyone would wish to behold, the green fields and the beautiful wild flowers on all sides as far as my eyes could carry, the most that attracted me was the high peaks on mountains at Linchburg we were transferred to the Norfolk and Western R. R. it being the through line to Ga. All through Va. I could see old plantations with these little log houses or what we would call cabins in Centre Co. They were the homes of the slaves. I got in conversation with quite a young student going home from Charlotte University in Va., he was very bright and intelligent. All places along the route of interest was explained to me. He first drew my attention to Maple Shade Inn, one of the finest summer resorts in the South, at present there are four hundred guests. Roling retreat was the next attraction. 1400 feet above sea level at that place the Almo hotel is open for northern guests. To describe all the beauties from Roanoke, Va., to this place would fill a page. I have visited many places of importance while here; one was the battle field where many of our brave boys in the 45th Pa. Regt. fell, was in the little brick house where Burnside had his headquarters. Our friend, Charles Smith and John A. Daley, describe it much better than I can. My brother and I walked through the same gap that the boys did when they charged on the boys in gray. In those days this place had only a few houses; today there is between ten and twelve thousand inhabitants not including the National Home where there is 1,300 old soldiers. The Home has four hundred acres of land, at present there are fifteen Government buildings finished, some half dozen not under roof. I have been to the tomb of Col. Robt. Love, one of the bravest Col's. in the Southern army. On Saturday evening my brother and I were invited by the Daughters of the Confederacy to a social given to those who wore the gray at the Carnegie hotel to witness the presentation of crosses of honor and the hours from 8 to 10 o'clock passed quickly. The music that gentlier on the spirit lies, than tired eyelids on tired eyes, music, too, that recalled other days "more martial" was furnished by Rev. Deaderick, Chas. Cargille, Mrs. Chas. Biddle and Miss Lena Barton. Miss Johnson recited the piece entitled "The Bullet and Trundle Bed". I find the people here all very kind where I am boarding they are the finest cooks. Mr. Shaner formerly lived in Bellefonte; left that town the year Hopkins and Andrews were hanged. My visit to this place has been very pleasant; will leave in a few days for Ga. as my brother is going down there on business. So far I see little difference in the climate than in Pa; nights are very cold. Fearing that I will take too much space in your paper I will close.

The Logan Picnic.

The Logan boys are making great preparations for their annual picnic at Hecla park, Thursday, June 22nd. They contemplate a vastly bigger affair in every way this year than they have had for some years. Among the features of the day will be racing, field events, trap shooting, a sack race, a game of ball between a team of Logans and one of Undines, and various other sports. There will be plenty to eat for all who will attend. Special trains will be run to suit the convenience of all comers and goers. Everybody is invited and all are urged to attend.

College of Music.

$34 pays six weeks instruction and board at the College of Music, Freeburg, Pa. Piano, Organ, Singing, Brass and String Instruments taught. Young people as well cared for as at home. Terms begin June 13 and July 25. For Catalogue address, HENRY B. MOYER.

BIDS ONLY ASKED IN THIS COUNTRY.

Washington, June 12.—The war department has made public the invitations signed by Secretary Taft, for proposals for the construction of railways in the Philippines under the act of congress passed in February for that purpose An elaborate scheme of transportation is involved. One-half of one per cent. from the gross earnings is to be paid to the Philippine government as taxes. The prospectus cites the provisions of the law guaranteeing for thirty years at 4 per cent. the first lien bonds, but it is provided that not more than $1,200,000 shall be paid in interest in any one year.

Bids will be received only from private citizens of the United States or the Philippines or from railroad corporations organized and existing under the laws of a state or the United States or the Philippines. The lines to be constructed are as follows:

From Dagupan; in the province of Pangasinan, to Laoag, in the province of Ilocos Norte; approximately 168 miles; from San Fabian, on the Lingayen gulf, via Twiu Peaks and the Canyon of the Bued river, to Baguio, with the option of continuing to Trinidad in the province of Bonguet, approximately fifty-five miles; from Dagupan, or Cabanatuon, in Nueva Ecija province, or from any point between Cabanatuan and Dagupan having railway connection with Manila, extending northerly through the Carabello pass and down the valley of the Cagayan river to Apari, 260 miles; from Manila northward to connect with these lines to Laoag, Benguet and Aparri, 120 miles.

From Manila to Bagantias, on the Bay of Carribello, which is approximately seventy miles in length, with a line from Calamba, in the province of Laguna to Santacruz, twenty five miles and another from Lipa or other convenient junctions in Bagatas to Lecenna to province of Tayabas, thirty-five miles, making a total of 130 miles; from Pasaco, on the Gulf of Pasaco, to Liaco, to the province of Albay, with a line from Liago to Tabaco and across the island of Cacraray to the harbor of Batan, and with the main line extending to Legaspi, on the Gulf of Albay, all approximately 100 miles; from Iloilo, in a northerly direction from King to Capiz and Batan, on the north coast of the island of Panay, about 100 miles; on the island of Cebu, running north from the city of Bau to Danano, on the east coast, with the option of a line across from Carcar or Sibonga to the west coast and thence along the coast between Dumanjug Barilo, twenty-six miles in length

Beehive as an Incubator

An Ohio man has made the discovery that he can hatch chicks in a beehive. Upon investigation he found that the temperature of his hives was that of his incubator. Acting upon this information he placed a setting of eggs in a hive and in nineteen days took from it some chicks. He says a chaff hive is necessary. Stretch a piece of cheese cloth above the bees and lay the egg on this cloth. Place a cushion over and around the eggs. Here is something, if true, that ought to convince every poultryman that it is necessary to keep bees.

Diphtheria in Jersey Shore.

Diphtheria is prevalent in Jersey Shore and the health authorities are striving to prevent the disease from spreading. A majority of the children affected belong to the First Baptist Sunday school, and it has been advisable to close the church and lecture room until the building can be thoroughly fumigated.

Records Broken at State College's Meet.

State College, Pa., June 13.—Penn State captured the dual track meet Monday from the Carlisle Indians after a close contest.

Four new records were established. Forkum lowered the intercollegiate mark for the high hurdle. Mount Pleasant broke his own record in the broad jump and ran the fastest quarter ever seen on Beaver Field, while Saunders bettered the State record in pole vault.

After the meet Arnold, of Harrisburg, was elected track captain for next year. The summary.

Two Killed in Circus in Blair County.

While Spangler's circus was giving a performance in Williamsburg, Blair county, Friday night several sections of the seats collapsed, due to overcrowding and two persons were fatally injured while a score or more was hurt not seriously. Mrs William Strassar and Mrs. William Ruth were the persons fatally injured, receiving broken limbs and internal hurts. The tent was crowded, when, without warning the supports under the seats gave away and 500 people were dropped to the ground, a struggling mass of humanity. A portion of the tent fell, causing a panic among the persons not in the collapsed sections Men and women fought to free themselves and the cries of the injured could be heard blocks away. Attributing the accident to the negligence of the show people many men attacked them with stones and clubs while they were packing to leave and a number were badly used up. The manager of the show attempted to reason with the mob and was driven into the home of a citizen amid threats of lynching.

A Great Reception.

According to the Williamsport Sun, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Houck, who are quietly spending their honeymoon at the Ryan cottages at Eagles Mere, were given a serenade Thursday night worthy of the occasion. The din was started by the explosion of 10 pounds of dynamite, followed by 20 rounds of shot gun firing. The calithumpian band then added to the noise with marine whistles and other ear-splitting instruments. Mr. and Mrs. Houck finally appeared, Mr. Houck made a speech, while Mrs. Houck extended the hospitality of the cabin to the ladies of the crowd.

A group of 50 University of Pennsylvania students were conspicuous actors in the evening's celebration.

Valuable Books Presented to the Academy Library.

The Bellefonte Academy's library received valuable additions this week from friends of the institution. "The History of the 148th Pennsylvania Volunteers" was presented by Gen. James A. Beaver, also fifteen volumes of "Beacon Lights of History," by John Lord, presented by Cape May, New Jersey gentlemen who were former students of the Academy.

THE GREAT TITIAN.

His Was an All Embracing Genius, Courtly, Serene, Majestic.

At once a genius and a favorite of fortune, Titian moved through his long life of pomp and splendor serene and self contained. He was of old and noble family, born at Pieve, in the mountain district of Cadore. By the time that he was eleven years old his father, Gregorio di Conte Vecelli, recognized that he was destined to be a painter and sent him to Venice, where he became the pupil first of Bellini and then of the great artist Giorgine. From the first indeed he enjoyed every privilege that an artist of his time could need. The doge and council of Venice recognized his ability, as did the dukes of Ferrara and Mantua. As the years went on kings, popes and emperors were his friends and patrons. In his home at Biri, a suburb of Venice, from which in one direction the snowclad Alps are visible and in the other the soft luxuriance of the Venetian lagoon, he maintained a princely household, associating with the greatest and most accomplished men of Venice, working on until he had reached the age of ninety-nine years. Even then it was no ordinary ailment, but the visitation of the plague, that carried him off, and such was the honor in which he was held that the law against the burial of the plague stricken in a church was overruled in this case, and he was laid in the tomb which he had prepared for himself in the great Church of the Frari.

No artist's life was so completely and sustainedly superb, and such, too, is the character of his work. He was great in portraiture, in landscape, in the painting of religious and mythological subjects. In any one of these departments others have rivaled him, but his glory is that he attained to the highest rank in all. He was an artist of universal gifts. His was an all embracing genius, courtly, serene, majestic. He viewed the splendor of the world in a big, healthful, ample way and represented it with the glowing brush of a supreme master of color.—Charles H. Caffin in St. Nicholas.

HOW HOMES ARE LOST.

They let their insurance run out.

They bought things they did not need because they were cheap.

They subscribed for everything they could pay for on the installment plan.

The father always intended to get his life insured, but died without doing so.

They did not realize how easy it is to get into debt and how hard it is to get out.

Money enough went down in drink and up in smoke to have saved the home.

They tried to do what others expected of them rather than what they could afford.

They thought it small to insist on having an agreement or understanding put in writing.

They could not say "No" and could not afford to tell their friends, "I cannot afford it."

When the shoe began to pinch they "really did not see where they could retrench." Habit had made luxuries seem necessaries.—Success.

NEEDS OF THE HAIR.

The Greatest Are Cleanliness, Ventilation and Friction.

The first and greatest needs of the hair are cleanliness, friction and ventilation. Give your halo a sun bath once in awhile, and the silky strands will fairly laugh with happiness. For some crazy reason there are many individuals who will not wash their heads often enough to keep the hair decently clean. We are not water animals and do not need to soak our topknots every day, but it is a pretty plain fact that once every week or two the hair should be carefully washed. If there is an inclination to dandruff or if the hair is subjected to an unusual amount of dust, a weekly shampoo is an absolute necessity.

By using eggs instead of soap there is no danger whatever of causing the hair to become harsh and brittle. Eggs are as cleansing as soap, and the sulphur contained in them acts as a tonic to the growth. When eggs are used the water should be very hot and the hair rubbed vigorously so that the eggs will make good live suds. No soap is necessary.

When the hair persistently suffers from loss of vitality it is usually from one or more of the following causes: Uncleanliness, lack of care, anxiety, worry, late hours, overstudy, want of exercise or disease. Dyspepsia is responsible for many thinned out halos. The hair, being the most delicate of the body's formation, is the first to show that the body is not receiving sufficient nourishment. The use of harmful restoratives or dyes will frequently cause the hair to become gray and broken. One cannot be too careful what one rubs into one's thought dome.

CHILDREN FED TO MOLOCH

Dr. Felix Adler Thus Characterizes the Labor of Children.

Humanitarians as well as materialists have raised their voices in protest against the laws that permit the traffic in children's strength at the expense, not merely of the child, but of the community.

Collier's Weekly voices this protest and makes incidental comment upon conditions in Pennsylvania in the following editorial:

Child labor in England began when modern machinery brought a demand for cheap operatives. Then, as Dr. Felix Adler has said, somebody had the idea of shoveling all the unowned and unloved children into factories. "Children were fed to machines as literally as in ancient idolatry they were fed to Moloch." They worked for fourteen hours a day and rotted by the thousand. A parliamentary inquiry showed the case of a seven-year-old boy whose father used to wake him before daybreak, carry him to the mill and leave him there to tend a machine for sixteen hours a day. Women crawled through two-foot galleries on their hands and knees, dragging by a long chain attached to a leather belt a cart holding three hundred or four hundred pounds of coal. "How is it," asked the strong Jewish thinker, "that human beings are capable of such brutality?" Why is it that in England, an Anglo-Saxon country, where woman is supposed to be a kind of goddess, the womanhood was crushed out of little girls and grown women groveled and dragged carts?" Two years ago there were 20,000 children under twelve years of age at work in our southern states. Pennsylvania has 35,000 under sixteen, the greater number of them under twelve. Elizabeth Barrett Browning once asked of England, "How long, oh cruel nation, will you trample on a child's heart?" "This," says Dr. Adler, "is not Russia. What do you think of our own czars of industry?"

Base Ball for 1905.

John J. McGraw's Official Baseball Guide for 1905, just published, is one of the most complete books of the kind ever issued. It contains everything that is of interest to the enthusiasts, and the special feature is a chapter on Jack Chesebro's famous spit ball, with illustrations, showing how that wonderful curve can be mastered. The Guide has many full page illustrations, and contains instructions how to play every position on a nine. It has all the official rules, the new rules for the post season championship games, schedule of the season's games, averages, and standing of all the leagues. It is No. 10 of Fox's Athletic Library, and will be sent to any address on receipt of the price, 10 cents, with 4 cents extra for postage.

To Meet at Sunbury.

The Pennsylvania Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, has appointed its annual meeting to take place in Sunbury on December 12, 13, 14 and 15. This is a great occasion with the Grangers and always draws together a large concourse of people from all parts of the state. C. H. Dildine, who occupies a prominent position in the Grange, and is a member of the executive committee, is now in Sunbury making preliminary arrangements for the annual gathering in that place and ascertaining the extent of the accommodation which that city can furnish to the great number of people who will be there.

CZAR HEARD FROM

Washington Hears That Nicholas is not Unfavorable to Peace.

CZAR WAS GRATIFIED

With the Friendly Offer of Good Will Which Ambassador Meyer Was Delegated to President.

PRESIDENT HAD SEVERAL CALLERS

Washington, June 9.—The Czar has at last been heard from here and the result is not unfavorable to peace.

In his recent audience with Mr. Meyer, the American ambassador, the czar indicated a willingness to take under advisement the subject of peace and expressed a warm appreciation of the friendly words of Mr. Meyer, speaking as the personal envoy of the president. The reception of Mr. Meyer was characterized by the greatest cordiality and friendliness and the ambassador's cablegram to the president giving a general account of the audience is of a distinctly hopeful tone. Mr. Meyer did not bring to the St. Petersburg government an offer of meditation, but a "friendly offer of good will" as it was described by Count Cassini, which apparently was gratifying to the czar. Further than this it is impossible to record the words of the cablegram.

Sir Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador, called upon President Roosevelt at the white house this afternoon. His conference with the president lasted about twenty-five minutes. As he left the white house he said that it would be impossible for him to attempt to throw any light on the progress of peace negotiations. He had no definite information himself, he said, and indicated that that was not surprising, inasmuch as Great Britain probably would be the last country which possibly could take an active part in the negotiations for a cessation of hostilities in the east. He declined to discuss any of the details of his conference with the president.

The Japanese minister and Baron Kanelo, who has been negotiating Japanese loans, called on the president after Ambassador Durand had gone. They came separately, the baron leaving the white house before the minister called.

After a conference lasting about half an hour Minister Takahira left the executive office and went to his legation. He said he could not discuss the situation at this time, much as he would like to throw some light on it for the American press. He declined to say whether or not Japan's peace terms have been indicated to the president.

Interesting to Asthma Sufferers.

Daniel Bante, of Otterville, Iowa, writes, "I have had asthma for three or four years and have tried about all the cough and asthma cures in the market and have received treatment from physicians in New York and other cities, but got very little benefit until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar which gave me immediate relief and I will never be without it in my house. I sincerely recommend it to all."—Sold by C. M. Parrish.

A Bellefonte Clothing Firm the Victim of A Forged Check.

A young man giving his name as E. S. Derr forged a check in the sum of $48.22 on Jacob From of Centre Hall.

Derr had been staying with From and some time ago the two came to Bellefonte. They went to the clothing store of M. Fauble & Son, where From is said to have introduced Derr as his cousin. Monday Derr went to the Fauble store and made a purchase, and in payment presented a Penns Valley Bank check made payable to him (Derr) with From's name on it. The paper was accepted by Faubles and the difference between the purchase and the sum named on the check was paid to Derr. Later the check proved to be a forgery. Derr, in the meantime went back to From's and later disappeared.

Derr, from reports, has been known by several names heretofore, and represented having been from various towns in the west.

Was Wasting Away.

The following letter from Robert R. Watts, of Salem, Mo., is instructive: "I have been troubled with kidney disease for the last five years. I lost flesh and never felt well and doctored with leading physicians and tried all remedies suggested without relief. Finally I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and less than two bottles completely cured me and I am now well and sound."—Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Joint Meeting of the State College Literary Club and the Mermaids.

For their annual meeting the State College Literary Club drove down in a bus and met in Bellefonte Friday evening.

For this meeting the custom has been to invite some speakers of prominence from a distance. This year among others efforts were made to secure Dr. Forbush, originator of the "Knights of King Arthur," and Dr. Moffat, since elected moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly. None of these men being able to come, the club was forced to fall back upon its own membership for the programme of the evening.

The club met at St. John's Rectory, the home of the President of the club for this year the Rev. G. I. Browne who invited the "sister" organization of the "Mermaid Club" to meet with them.

Dr. Benjamin Gill acted as toastmaster and after giving a very choice and suggestive talk himself on "The value of literary friendships" called on Dr. Runkle the Carnegie librarian who spoke entertainingly on "The expanded circulation of books and its probable effect on general culture." There was some joking aimed at Prof. Pattee the novelist of the club who was next called upon to speak on "The Current Literature of the year." He deplored the flood of novels and said that the best books were not those that everyone was reading and gave encouragement for the selection of some particular line of reading.

Prof. Gill called attention to the fact that among the most valuable hand books he owned was Prof. Pattee's book on "American Literature."

Prof. Willard then considered interestingly the subject "The probability of permanence in Literature."

Mr. Noah H. Swayne was then called on to respond in behalf of the "Mermaid Club" which he did with wit and good will. Two were absent from the State College club and only one from the Mermaids.

The Pruner Home Once More.

That the Pruner Orphanage Home presents a case rather complicated and not so easily settled as some may imagine is evident to anyone.

What should hinder the two Boro. councils and other parties closely interested to meet in a private way and settle the matter as wisely and righteously as they can.

A reasonable public could hardly refuse to acquiesce without complaint. Christ says "The poor (homeless orphans) ye have always with you. Were it not so the rich might become too selfish. Only those of little and weak faith doubt the willing ability of Bellefonte to sustain such an institution.

A Bellefonte Citizen.

Grand Encampment of Penn'a I. O. O. F.

The seventy-sixth annual communication of the Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania I. O. O. F. and the Department Council, Patriarchs Militants I. O. O. F. will be held at Bellefonte, Pa., Oct. 16-19, 1905.

This occasion will bring about three hundred representative men from all parts of the State to our town, in addition to which there will be quite a following of members and friends of the order from nearby points. Our town is noted for the cordial, open-hearted reception extended by our citizens to gatherings of this kind and it is hoped our good reputation will be maintained upon this occasion.

A New Law for the Slippery.

A law was passed by the Legislature, and went into effect March 28, which may cause trouble for storekeepers. It provides that any storekeeper who disposes of his stock as a whole or in parts, other than the usual course of business without giving the purchaser list of all his creditors shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $5000, and imprisonment not exceeding six months and that the purchaser must ascertain creditors and give them five days notice, personal or by registered letter, of proposed sale, otherwise it is fraudulent or voidable, throwing him liable for all debts.

Organization of the School Board.

The school board was organized Thursday for the year beginning Monday, June 6, inst., by the election of Hon. Wm. C. Heinle president, D. F. Fortney, secretary, and A. C. Mingle, treasurer. After the organization was completed the board unanimously elected John D. Meyer supervising principal of the schools for a term of three years at a salary of $1,500 per year and fix Wednesday evening, June 21st, 1905, for the election of teachers, levying the taxes for 1905 and the transaction of other business.

ELAINE ROZE'S FASHION BUDGET.

Summer Modes in New York: Extensive Vogue of Silk. Miladi Pedestrienne. The Sensible Woman of Fashion.

The silk craze this season is even more strenuous than I foretold in my Palm Beach letter. With the exception of the strictly tailored traveling silk everything is Abis silk. Silk goes shopping and to the theatre, for, Milady argues, is it not one of the most economical as well as beautiful fabrics? Extravagance, thy name is "tub gown!"

And Milady is right, as she always is! Abis Messaline taffeta, now so deservedly popular, and carrying its guarantee on the selvage, may be fearlessly selected for the more "dressy gown." Rich, lustrous and supple to the touch, it is the Queen of fabrics.

Now as to the plain tailormade suit, which has some serviceable material and color is one of the first items to be considered in planning the summer wardrobe, and which, though chic, must be simple.

Priestly cravanetted cloths are traditional for service for hardwear gowns, so why make the tailor gown of perishable fabrics when such exquisite cloths running the gamut from the stunning tweeds for cooler days to the featherweight cloths and mohairs, can be obtained?

The old saying that one may not "know enough to go in when it rains" does not apply to the up-to date woman who delights in taking her daily constitutional rain or shine, for since the advent of the process that makes any cloth so that rain will neither wet or spot it, Milady does not have to go in when it rains" or stifle under that abomination of yore, called the "Mackintosh." She has her gown made of cloth with cravenette stamped upon it and defies the elements in her beauty building tramps.

With the advent of the tight fitting bodice, instead of the blouse effect at the waist line, Milady is making a careful study of the corset over which her gown is fitted, but the woman of fashion is far too sensible too return to the old "squeeze-in-the-middle" models - for what is an inch or two in the waist-line at the expense of a puffed-out abdomen? - and the best models such as the C. B. a la Spirite, still show all the health-preserving and graceful lines familiar to us in the straight-front corset.

Pretty Williamsport Wedding.

A brilliant wedding occurred at Williamsport Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when Miss Mary Carmen Ryan, of that city, and Frank Derland Houck, of Harrisburg, son of Rev. W. A. Houck, pastor of the Mulberry street M. E. church at Williamsport, and at one time pastor of the Methodist church at Bellefonte, were united in marriage by the groom's father, assisted by Rev. W. C. Hogg, in the first Presbyterian church. A fashionable assemblage was present to witness the ceremony and the church was beautifully decorated. The bride and her attendants were magnificently gowned, the former wearing a robe of valenciennes lace. After a reception and wedding supper the couple left on an eastern wedding trip.

SOUVENIRS FOR SALE.

Of the Academy Centennial This Week.

There will be offered for sale this week quite a number of pretty souvenirs of the Academy centennial which takes place Thursday and Friday, June 15 and 16. As the number of souvenirs will be limited, persons desiring any of them should make their purchases early or they may not be able to get them.

The first and most valuable souvenir will be a medal made out of pieces of the old bell picked up in the ruins after the fire. This bell was possibly the oldest in the county. It is not known just when it was put on the Academy but its age was fixed from the fact that on one side was a large cross and the word "Espana, 1802." The souvenir medals will be about the size of a quarter. On the one side will be the old Academy building in relief with the date 1805. On the reverse side will be the new building and date 1905. The medals are handsome souvenirs and will make nice charms or pins.

Another souvenir will be a badge, consisting of a medallion on which will be a picture of the new building in bold relief. Attached to the medallion will be a silk ribbon streamer properly inscribed.

The third souvenir will be the centennial program. This will contain not only a brief history of the Academy with a full program of all the centennial events, but will be handsomely illustrated with sixteen large plates of buildings and people connected with the institution since its inception.

Time Tried and Merit Proven.

One Minute Cough Cure is right on time when it comes to curing Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. It is perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and is the children's favorite Cough Syrup. At Greens Pharmacy.

Alcohol is a Poison.

The Prohibitionists and all the embattled hosts of the enemies of rum will rejoice in the recent declaration attributed to Sir Frederick Treves, surgeon to the King of England, that alcohol is distinctly a poison, and that its use should be limited as strictly as that of any other poison. Sir Frederick does not admit that it is even an appetizer, and points out that even in small quantities it retards digestion. Its use in hospitals, he says, is distinctly declining. He finds consumption of it inconsistent with any work requiring quick, keen, alert judgment. With this last opinion there will be general concurrence by persons of average experience. Men who drink with judgment, as, after all, a good many men do, are not only very moderate in their potations, but defer them, altogether until all the work of the day that requires "quick, keen, alert judgment" has been done.—Harper's Weekly.

STRONG Again

is what Mrs. Lucy Stovall, of Tilton, Ga., said after taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hundreds of other weak women are being restored to perfect health by this remedy. YOU may be well if you will take it.

Indigestion causes nearly all the sickness that women have. It deprives the system of nourishment and the delicate organs peculiar to women suffer — weaken, and become diseased.

Kodol

enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten. It nourishes the body, and rebuilds the weak organs, restoring health and strength. Kodol cures indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, sour risings, belching, heartburn and all stomach disorders.

FIRST IN THE FIELD.
Just commenced in the New York Family Story paper

A Modern Bluebeard

or the adventures of a Female Sherlock Holmes a realistic romance founded on fact by Fanny May. You who have been reading the daily papers can easily imagine how the thought came to the author's mind to write this story. Though purely a romance, many of its most sensational and dramatic scenes are based on fact. It is a startling expose of a wicked man's wiles. This realistic romance begins in No. 1644 of THE NEW YORK FAMILY STORY PAPER.

It's Dangerous To Doubt.

You have no right to doubt a thing that has been tested and found to rest on fact.

Vin-te-na has cured so many people in so many parts of the country that it is really unjust to predict a failure in any case that has gone beyond the power of medicine.

Vin-te-na purifies the blood and makes the nerves strong and steady. It not only cures disease but safeguards the system against every form of germ disease. Most all diseases are rooted in the blood. Vin-te-na cures the very cause of all blood disorders by destroying the impurities in the blood and giving it purity and warmth. Get it and be strong.

out this wonderful piece of engineering J. M. Waldron."

The entire assemblage arose and sang "Alma Mater," an original song by F. Lewis Pattee.

FORMER STUDENTS SPEAK.

A. W. Dixon, of the class of 1860, was called upon by the chairman of the meeting to address his old schoolmates He was followed by Dr. A. S. Tuttle, of the class of '68, who said:—

"I remember distinctly when the other fellows and myself used to lie under the trees on the old campus and dream day dreams of the time when a railroad might run through the Penn Valley. The only conveyance to the college in those days was by coach from Bellefonte and during the year several persons came to visit the school, which was then an experiment. Among others was a United States official who came to make a report to the Government. He said that the college had foolishly erected a five-story building, most too large for its present needs or for its needs at any future time. We have now on the grounds ten or more buildings all larger than the one which was erected in the days when I was a student of old State."

Judge H. O. Smith, of Clearfield county, voiced the hope that some of the men who are to graduate from the State College will achieve sufficient wealth to endow the State College with several millions, so it will not be dependent upon a capricious Legislature or Governor for funds.

HINTS FROM GENERAL BEAVER.

General Beaver closed the meeting with a ringing address to the alumni telling them that it is their duty to see that the college which gave them their education should not have to beg for funds. 'Go to your legislators," said he, "and tell them just what is wanted. Tell them that the State College needs $10,000,000 for its betterment and its present needs. Don't ask them for it, but go to them, one and all, and tell them that you wish an appropriation made. Go to them before election, and not after. We want $1,000,000 for the Women's department, If you have achieved anything send a record of it to your alma mater that it may be encouragement for those coming after. But above all go to your Congressman and tell him what you want. He won't know what a campus is, but tell him and tell him what it needs before election."

The college yell was given with a will for General Beaver.

ALUMNI PARADE.

The prettiest feature of the day was the alumni parade on the campus. At 4:30 o'clock, with the cadet band playing "Auld Lang Syne," the attending members of every class from 1860 until the present day marched with boyish glee around the buildings and grounds of the college.

Old men, with weary tread, as though the path of life had many sharp and thorny places, sang the old college songs and yelled the old college yells with enthusiastic fervor.

The cadets of the college gave a realistic sham battle in the woods near the chapel. Three companies of infantry and a battery of artillery endeavored to hold a position against four companies of infantry, but the latter were victorious, carrying the hill by storm and dislodging the enemy.

The college troops under the command of Captain Lawton, of the Nineteenth Infantry, U. S. A., were then reviewed and inspected.

The festivities of the day ended with a smoker for the "Old Boys," who voted the semi-centennial a huge success.

The Auditorium was crowded this (Wednesday) morning to witness the graduation exercises of the Class of 1905, Pennsylvania State College. The exercises began at 10:30 and were presided over by President George W. Atherton. After an invocation by Rev. James O. Denniston, the following addresses were delivered.

Oration, "Japanese Character" George Linton Christman, Reading.

Oration, "The Teacher of Today" Jerome John Morgan, Scandia.

Oration, "Our Standard of Judgment" Richard DeCharms Barclay, Philadelphia.

Oration, "A Plea for Pure Food" Reuben Harper Harry Aungst, Pine Grove Mills.

Oration with Valedictory, "The Discontent of Man." Paul Milles Rainey, Laceyville.

The Commencement address was delivered by Hon. William T. Harris, United States Commissioner of Education. His subject was "The Evolution of Scientific Education in the Nineteenth Century." He spoke eloquently and to the point and his remarks were exceedingly helpful to the young students just entering the school of life.

The farewell reception to the Senior class by the class of 1906 will be held in the armory this evening.

Committee Wants Correct Names of Centre County Soldiers.

In order to secure absolute accuracy in the names and spelling thereof on our soldiers' monument, we will publish from time to time the lists of certain companies so as to enable those who are interested to suggest changes in initials or spelling, and also to suggest the names of any persons who may have been omitted from the rolls. This is the last opportunity which will be given to our people and to the survivors or friends of deceased soldiers who served from Centre county to have these names corrected. The Committee, therefore, appeals very earnestly to all who are interested in the subject to carefully scan all the names to ascertain.

1st, whether any have been omitted; and

2nd, whether the names of those already contained in the rolls are properly spelled.

It is also very important that the names of soldiers who enlisted in organizations outside of the county or State should be secured, in order that they may find their place among the nation's defenders upon the monument. This is perhaps the most important thing which the Committee has in charge, the organizations from our own county being already well known. If, therefore, any person, in or out of the county, has knowledge of a citizen of Centre county who enlisted in organizations outside of the county and State, it is especially important that their names should be ascertained, so that they may find a place among those who enlisted at home.

Any communication in regard to these names addressed to Gen. John I. Curtin or William H. Musser, Bellefonte, will receive prompt attention.

A LESSON IN GRACE.

"Strength at the Center and Freedom at the Extremities.

"Grace," says a young woman who devotes much of her time to coaching fashionable folk in the art, "is not so much a heaven born blessing as it is a matter of hard, persistent work. Not every one is the possessor of a pretty face nor great riches, which, like charity, cover a multitude of deficiencies, but most of us can do something in the way of improving the figure and can learn to move a bit more gracefully—not at a single bound, but with hard, persistent work and close attention to details and constant practice of correct movements."

There is much less of the "fad" idea and more practical common sense in the foundation principle of Delsarte's method than is to be found in a whole volume of certain physical culture gibberish, say the experts.

"Strength at the center and freedom at the extremities," reads this law, and there is the secret of that illusive, baffling, fascinating charm called "grace." Move the arms, the feet, the head and allow the rest of the body to remain reasonably motionless—motionless, but not rigid. Freedom does not mean "laxity," but "directed ease." It may be acquired only by making "easy motion" a habit.

Hold the arms bent at the elbows, close to the sides. Drop the hands from the wrists and then with as little effort as possible shake them. This starts the circulation. Now, holding the body firm at the waist line, rotate torso, head, arms. Here you have the rudiments of the aforesaid young woman's "lesson in grace."—New York Mail.

HEALTHFUL HOSIERY.

Stockings Should Never Be Worn Unless Thoroughly Washed.

No matter how pretty a stocking looks, it should never be worn until it has been thoroughly washed. This may seem overparticular to many, but the dye used to color some hosiery contains a certain element that is poisonous to some persons and, entering the skin through a slight abrasion, will frequently cause serious trouble. Red stockings are the most likely to be injurious.

Another thing to guard against is the stocking that is too short. One of the greatest causes of bunions is the stocking that does not give the toes sufficient room. Light as the pressure is, it is yet so steady as to cause this painful condition of the joints. After putting the stocking on it should be pulled out from the toes to give them greater freedom and incidentally prevent the stockings from wearing out.

A stocking should not be too long, however. If it is it will surely wrinkle and cause the foot to blister. A good plan is to have the stocking half an inch longer than the foot measurement, this length being sufficient to give the foot perfect freedom and yet run no risk of hurting it in any way. —Baltimore Sun.

LAUNDRY LINES.

For ironing days a fire of cinders is better than fresh coal.

When washing silk waists always iron them upon the wrong side.

Mildewed linen should be soaked for several hours in buttermilk and then washed in the usual way.

Three ounces of borax and two pounds of sliced white bar soap dissolved in two quarts of hot water will make a splendid lather for washing clothes.

Never launder table linen when stained until an attempt has been made to remove the spots, as it is almost impossible to efface any discoloration after the cloth has been submerged in soapy water.

To wash white lace boil some rice to a pulp and, having diluted this with water, wash the lace in it. Rinse in a fresh supply of rice water and then pin out to dry. This method of cleansing lace makes it a good color and just stiff enough.

How Ned Got Even.

"Oh, I have a lovely secret!" cried Bessy as she ran into the dining room.

"What is it?" said her twin brother Ned.

"I will not tell you. It wouldn't be a secret if I did," answered Bessy teasingly.

"All right, then, but I will get even," said Ned angrily. So he went out to Bessy's playhouse and on the chair where she generally sat playing with her dolls placed a lot of pins. After awhile in came Bessy and was just about to sit down when a playmate called her and said:

"Mamma has given me two dolls—one for you, the other for me—so let's go and dress them."

Soon after Ned went in with a book in his hand and sat plump down on the pins he had placed on the chair for Sister Bessy. It was a good lesson for Ned, and now he plays no more practical jokes on his sister.

The Elephant as a Worker.

Any one who thinks the elephant a slow, clumsy beast would have cause to change his opinion on seeing him at work along the rivers of northern Siam. The rainy season, which begins in April, is the time when the teak logs, cut during the dry season in the forests about the upper waters of the Menam river, are floated down to Rahang, where they are caught and rafted to Bangkok. Instead of red shirted, spike shoed "river drivers," such as handle the logs in their downstream journey to the sawmills on the Penobscot and Kennebec in Maine, the "lumber driving" of the Siamese rivers is done by barefooted, half naked men on elephants, and the "bone" labor and much of the thinking involved in the operation are done by the elephants.

Unionville.

The children's Day services at the M. E. church has been one of the principle events during the past week. Although the weather was bad, yet the rain ceased for Sunday morning, and a house full congregated to enjoy the exercises by the little ones and some big ones too. before 10:30 the hour to begin the services, the children were to be seen all in white like little fairies flitting by on their way to thechurch with happy hearts, probably the more so because of their pretty clothes, and the attractive appearance they were going to make on the platform, but where is the human being who doeen't like to look nice if they have any respect at all for themselves or for their friends, and there is no harm in a certain amount of it, as long as we keep our hearts in a right attitude toward God, for He wants us to be happy, or he would not have made this world so beautiful for us to live in, and it is right for the children to have these delightful seasons, when their little hearts swell with joy and praises to God the Father of all, and to teach them that there are happy and delightful things to be enjoyed in the service of God, and to sympathize with those who have not these privileges. The decorations were beautiful, tasteful and to suit the exercises. The class exercises were of a high order, each teacher drilled her own class. The declamations were good, and all went off without a blunder. Mr. Piper the minister was present and when he came to make his address, he dident do as well as the children, for he had been so touched by it all, and his heart was so full that he could scarcely speak, he thought that it could not have been better.

Mr. Eli Earhart has arrived home in a right good condition, though minus a leg, but he anticipates more comfort without it than with it and suffering.

Mr. John Rumbarger and family of Bellefonte have been visiting at the homes of Mr. Wash Rumbarger and Mrs. Samuel Brugar.

Mrs Melissa Bing expects her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Holland of DuBois, who will drive from that place Mr. Holland is a very prominent business man and runs a large Drug store in DuBois, therefore his time from home is limited and his visits amongst his friends are very rare.

Miss Cornelia Dale departed on Saturday morning for Pitcairn, where she will spend a few weeks with a sister, Mrs. E. P. Lingle, during Miss Dale's stay in Unionville she made many friends and all invite her to come again, that speaks better for ones standing among the people and for their true worth, than all the lauding we could do.

Miss Kate Leathers after a few weeks stay at home has returned to Danville.

Mrs. J. P. Harris Jr. has gone with her children to spend some time at Beaver Mills, where her husband is employed in the lumbering business.

Mrs. Wilbur Twitmire of Bellefonte stopped a few days with friends here.

Miss Myra Underwood is at present in the Sanitarium at Bellefonte for treatment, she is reported to be doing very nicely so far, and we sincerely hope it may continue and she will be thoroughly restored, we miss her from home very much, as she is one of those persons who though quiet and modest in their manner make their influence to bear upon all with whom they come in contact.

Chestnut Grove.

Mrs. Charles Fulton, wife and little son are visiting their many friends in this place.

Mrs. Kline of Bellefonte visited over Sunday at Mrs. George Shirk.

Warden Wellers of Bellefonte was a pleasant caller in our town last week, also Mr. Watson and Lawrence Eckley of Bush Hollow.

Mr. Arthur Dale was seen passing through our town last week.

Rev. Orner and wife and Mrs. Mumau attended the preaching services last Sunday.

Mr. Joseph Witherite and sister Irene attended children's day services at Yarnell on Sunday.

Thomas McClincy of Unionville spent Sunday at Jacob Shirk's.

We wish to say that wedding bells will soon be ringing in our little town.

Port Matilda.

Last Tuesday afternoon there was a terrible storm, lightning struck Wm. Youngs house, nothing seriously damaged and in the evening a very heavy rain followed and a great many corn fields were badly washed.

Messrs. P. B. and M. J. Woodring and families of Philipsburg spent Sunday with Wm. Crain and Jesse Woodring.

A great many sheep and calves in Worth Twp. have been killed within the last year by dogs and never could be caught until Tuesday morning June 13. The dogs got into Chaney & Thompsons pasture field and killed one calf and tore two others nearly up. Scott Laird the sharp shooter heard the calves bawling he ran to the pasture field and shot and killed both dogs.

Miss Ella Cowher of Tyrone visited her parents Adam Cowher a couple days.

Perry Reese and Harry Laird on Monday each one put a colt in N. H. Williams pasture field along the rail road. They jumped over the wire fence and cut themselves so bad that Laird had to shoot his and it is very doubtful if Mr. Reeses will get well.

Moshannon.

We are sorry to note the death of Mr. Connelly (section foreman) of this place, who dropped dead of heart disease, while at work on Monday morning. He leaves a wife and 7 children.

Charles Hollabaugh of Philipsburg who has been visiting at A. M. B. Beightol's has returned home.

Lucy Fleming and niece Kathryn Bowes visited friends in Jersey Shore and Williamsport.

Miss Rhoda Weaver visited at Walker's in Snow Shoe last Sunday.

Minnie Beightol of Lodebar visited at W. L. Bickett.

Clementine Cramer who has been visiting in Pine Glenn has returned home.

Children's day services in the M. E. church Sunday 3 p. m.,

Minnie Culver and cousin James Weaver visited in Pine Glenn.

Reed Bierly visited friends at Lobebar on last Saturday.

We wish to correct an error in the Centre Democrat items of last week. It was not George Walker but George Rodgers that visited at T. D. Weaver's on said Sunday.

No. 2

Mr. Will Quick of Milesburg was a pleasant caller in our town over Sunday. Call again Will, we are always glad to see your smiling face.

The latest who is it Mame, Hum! Hum!

A dance was held at the home of Jim Deans last Friday night they all report of having a fine time.

Clyde Barger is all smiles, they say it is a boy.

Those on the sick list are Mr. John McGown and Mrs. Geo. Quick.

Miss Irene Quick was a welcome visitor at the home of her brother Rush a few days last week.

Fowler.

Children's day at Hannah June 18th at ten thirty.

Quite a few of our folks attended the children's day services at Bald Eagle.

Miss Allie McMingal of Bellwood spent a week with friends at this place.

The Sharer brothers at Bald Eagle had a barn raising on the 13th. all the folks around were there, they say they will have a fine barn when finished.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Beck of Bellwood spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geyer.

Miss Elsie Barr of Altoona is visiting her uncle M. C. Walk.

The festival at Dix was well attended considering the evening.

Old Age.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of Nature is a beautiful and majestic thing. The very shadow of eclipse which threatens it, makes it the more prized. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom and counsel. That is old age as it should be. But old age as it so often is means nothing but a second childhood of mind and body. What makes the difference ?. Very largely the care of the stomach. In youth and in full strength of manhood it doesn't see to matter how we treat the stomach. We abuse it, overwork it, injure it. We don't suffer from it much. But when age comes the stomach is worn out. It can't prepare and distribute the needed nourishment to the body, and the body, unnourished, falls into senile decay. Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery if a wonderful medicine for the old people whose stomachs are "weak" and whose digestions are "poor." Its invigorating effects are by mind as well as body. It takes the sting from old age, and makes old people strong.

Wedding at Fowler.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Geyer at Fowler on the morning of June 14th, when Victor H. Bean of Pitcairn, and Miss Mary C. Geyer of Fowler were united in marriage by Rev. J. B. Durkee, of Port Matilda. The bride is a beautiful and accomplished young lady, esteemed by all who know her. The groom is an architect and builder and is a fine young man. The guest sat down to a fine wedding breakfast. The bride and groom departed on the 8.30 train for Niagara Falls where they will spend their honeymoon, after which they will return to Pitcairn to make their future home. We wish them a long and happy life.

DINING IN JAPAN.

If It's Your First Japanese Meal You Will Have a Trying Time.

If it's your first Japanese dinner you're having a dreadfully hard time. In the first place you must sit on the floor, for they don't have any chairs in Japan. You kneel down, and then you turn your toes in till one laps over the other, and then you sit back between your heels. At first you are quite proud to find how well you do it, and you don't think it's so very uncomfortable. But pretty soon you get cramped, and your legs ache as if you had a toothache in them. You don't say anything, because you think that if the Japanese can sit this way all day long you ought to be able to stand it a few minutes. Finally both your feet go to sleep, and then you can't bear it a moment longer, and you have to get up and stamp around the room to drive the prickles out of your feet, and all the little dancing girls giggle at you. This isn't your only trouble either. All you have to eat with is a pair of chopsticks, and you're in terror lest you spill something on the dainty white matting floor. Now the floor of a Japanese house isn't just the floor; it's the chairs and sofas and tables and beds as well. At home it would be mortifying enough to go out to dinner and spill something on the floor, but in Japan, where people sit and sleep on the floor, it seems even worse. So you are unhappy till your little nesan (who is the waitress and almost as prettily dressed as the dancing girls, but not quite) comes laughing to your aid and shows you how to hold your chopsticks. After that you manage nicely the rice and the omelet, but the fish and the chicken you can't contrive to shred apart without dropping your chopsticks all the time. So between dances the maiko—the little girls about twelve years old—kneel down beside you and help you. They can't keep from giggling at your awkwardness, but you don't mind; you just giggle, too, and everybody giggles and has a lovely time.—St. Nicholas.

FATS AND DRIPPING.

Those That Should Not Be Used In Making Pastry.

The use of raw suet, lard or mutton fat in pastries is to be avoided, for each leaves an unpleasant after taste. The small pieces of fat trimmed from off the piece of beef that forms the more substantial part of the daily dinner are placed in an iron pan and allowed to simmer four or five hours either in the oven or at the back of the range. The fluid fat is then strained into a small crock or tin pail and set within the refrigerator when sufficiently cooled. Here it will keep fresh indefinitely.

The fat that is skimmed from soups and gravies must never be mingled with the purer fat obtained as just described, because, useful as it is for frying and other purposes, owing to the fact that it is usually flavored with herbs, spices or vegetables of some description, it is not available for pastry. Should the supply of pure fat fail to suffice it can be augmented by the occasional purchase of three or four pounds of beef fat from the butcher's, where it is cut into bits ready for rendering.

The drippings of poultry lend a fine flavor to the fat and add to its richness. A cup of fat or half a cup and the same of butter and a saltspoonful of salt are rubbed to a cream with a wooden spoon. Add four cups of flour and mix with the hands until the mass resembles granulated sugar. Make a hole in the center and pour into the opening a full cup of ice water. Mix quickly and lightly with the spoon and do not knead. This suffices for three pies of ordinary size. Should less be required the remainder can be kept in the refrigerator and utilized for dumplings, tarts, turnovers, etc.

Today.

Today is your day and mine, the only day we have, the day in which we play our part. What our part may signify in the great whole we may not understand, but we are here to play it, and now is our time. This we know, it is a cynicism. It is for us to express love in terms of helpfulness. This we know, for we have learned from sad experience that any other source of life leads toward decay and waste.—David Starr Jordan.

His Diagnosis.

Mrs. Green—William, what objection have you to that young man who is calling on our daughter? Green—He is silly, Mary. Mrs. Green—Oh, that's because he is in love! I remember the time when you were a very silly young man. Green—Silly isn't the proper name for it, Mary. I was a measly idiot—that's what I was!

Millions of Money, Millions

The way the Standard Oil Co. made their millions was by selling us coal oil. Every time we consume a gallon of coal oil we add to their millions. They have a net profit of over 100 per cent. on every gollon of oil we consume. Electric light and city gas are both sold at over 100 per cent. clear profit. If you buy a

Gems In Verse

The Call of the Plains.

If you are sick of curbing lines,
Of senseless social monkey shines,
Come west.
If freedom is the boon you seek
And think you need a strenuous streak,
Pack up your duds and take a sneak—
Come west.

If you are weary of the east,
That to effeteness has been leased,
Come west.
Come out here where the winds are strong,
Where nature sings a lusty song,
Where skies are blue and trails are long—
Come west.

If you would like a breath of air,
A bracing breath and good and rare,
Come west.
Come out where you may see the skies,
Where wide the prairie's vastness lies,
And brush the cobwebs from your eyes—
Come west.
—Chicago Chronicle.

The Birds.

Singers without toil, whose toil is play,
Who wake the skies before the peep of day,
Who call the shadows from the woodsides deep
And downward waft the dewy plumes of sleep,
You bring the buds and flowers and delight
Of spring. With your swift, soft, feathery flight
The seasons change their courses, and with you
They flit upon the gossamer seas of blue.

Light as the filmy chariots that scroll
The mirroring pool and softly upward roll
Before the breath of the wind—as gay as joy,
As light as laughter when no cares annoy—
All the affairs of men and women move
When, with the omens right, the birds approve.

Oh, mortal, this day do you wait or climb
Wearily the long fantastic path of time?
Mayhaps you cry faltering: "I am old!
And my immortal soul grows dead and cold!"
Not death! Not age! When the spring day was long
You mocked the redbreast and you spurned his song;
The oriole in the fragrant boughs above
May meadows could not warm your heart with love;
The merry bobolink in time of bloom
And roses failed to draw you from your doom;
And vainly, loudly croaked the water fowl,
And vainly hooted through the night the owl;
In vain the wild full throated thrushes sang
And woke the echoes till the woodlands rang.
The birds revile and scorn you; you they hate,
And now they fly and leave you while you wait.
—Arthur Richmond in Boston Transcript.

The Tree.

This tree, which stands with arms outspread,
With leaves, like fingers tremulous,
To seize all coolness overhead
And softly waft it down to us;
This tree—it means a hundred years
Of rain and sun, of drought and dew,
Before this shade which rests and cheers
Into today's perfection grew.

Some kindly one—forgotten now—
May thoughtfully have placed the seed,
Foreseeing that each reaching bough
Would satisfy a worn one's need.
Whoe'er he was, that unknown one,
Who set the seed or sproutlet slim,
He knew not that he had begun
What stands a monument to him.

The trees—the kindly trees—that blaze
With spring's green flame or autumn's blush,
The sentry fires that line the ways
Into the woodland's peaceful hush—
Through all the years they slowly grow
Until they shield the flowered sod;
The trees—the kindly trees—they show
The patient thoroughness of God.

This tree, which stands with arms outspread,
Seems to pronounce while standing thus
A blessing and to gently shed
A benediction over us.
The sunlight shuttles through the leaves
With threads of gold that flash and play;
Across the warp of shade it weaves
The mingled fabric of the day.
—W. D. Nesbit.

The Creed of Toil.

Today is your day, not the day that is past;
Tomorrow's a day that has yet to be born.
Toil earnestly, then, for the hours fly fast
From the morn.

You have never a minute for idle respite
Nor a second to childishly grieve.
Lay hold, and success crown your toil with delight
In the eve.

Life is brief at the best, and its aim is not clear,
But spend it so well that, whatever impend,
You'll have naught for repenting and never a fear
At the end.
—New York Journal.

Bits of Lace.

A bit of real lace will often contribute greatly to the style of a frock, and it is an excellent plan to rip from the garments before they are thrown aside any lace trimmings. No matter how badly soiled, every scrap of lace is worth saving. And this applies to the imitations as well as to the real, for if there is only sufficient to trim a stock collar it may be used for that purpose very conveniently and effectively on some future occasion, and as lace does not occupy a great deal of space and is not so popular with most as are many other materials it may easily be preserved.

In the New York Family Story Paper Charlotte May Kingsley's great romance An American Girl; or Hearts and Coronets. The subject deals with the one brought into prominence only lately by Andrew Carnegie's remark that he would not care to have a worthless British Duke marry into his family. Mrs. Kingsley depicts the American Girl true to life with all of a real American girl's abhorrence of being bartered for a title. This splendid serial begins in No. 1654 of The New York Family Story Paper. To enable all to read this fascinating romance we will send you a copy of the paper, containing the opening instalment, free of all charge. A LASTING EFFECT

This Evidence Should Prove Every Claim Made for Doan's Kidney Pills in Bellefonte.

Relief from the pains and aches of a bad back is always welcome to every backache sufferer but to cures lame, weak or aching back is what's wanted. Cure it so it will stay cured. It can be done. Here's the strongest evidence to prove it:

Wm. E. Haines living at 133 W Beaver St., says "I have had no occasion to use any kidney medicine since 1896. It was at that time I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills and I made a statement for publication recommending them. The cure has proved to be permanent and it gives me pleasure to once more endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. Before I used this preparation I had been suffering for six years with a lameness of the back and a dull lingering aching over the kidneys accompanied with severe pains in the head. My eyes pained me. Being on night work I had to have my rest during the day but when I was in this condition I could not get any rest at all, and was, in fact unfit to work. Reading of the many cures made in Bellefonte by Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at the Bush Block Drug Store. They banished the whole trouble, and during the past eight years I have had no return of it. With this proof I am well able to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

Many a woman would make a beautiful bride but she is deterred from entering the married state because of ill-health.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN
WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

The proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"If women would study the laws of health and use a little more common sense there would not be such a large number to-day suffering with the ills peculiar to our sex," writes Mrs. Sallie Martins (President Mutual Social Science Club), of 180 South Halstead Street, Chicago, Ill. "Then when medicine is needed if they would take the 'Favorite Prescription,' they would have a chance to get well. I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription three years ago and it cured me of female weakness of several years' standing, so I know what I am talking about when I praise it and always know what the result will be where it is used."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

A NEW REPUBLIC!

In Norway Affairs are Shaping for a National Convention.

HOUSE OF BERNADOTTE

King Oscar or Crown Prince Gustave of Sweden Will Not Yield to Request of Norway.

NEW BANNER FLUNG TO THE BREEZE

Copenhagen, June 10.—All hope that King Oscar or Crown Prince Gustave will yield to the request of the Norwegian Storthing to place a prince of the house of Bernadotte on the throne of Norway has now disappeared, according to a high authority-

The Danish royal family has also set the stamp of disapproval on the acceptance of the throne by a Danish Prince.

It is understood that arrangements are actually being made for a national convention in Norway and this it is believed will inevitably result in establishing a republic in that country.

According to well informed persons here Russia and Germany will refuse to recognize the Norwegian government until King Oscar consents to the disruption of the union. Strong efforts are being made for the same action by other governments, including that of Denmark, and it is stated that these efforts are meeting with encouragement.

The Norwegian press and people according to advices received here remain singularly undemonstrative Premier Michelson wants no demonstration and Friday refused to permit a large procession of Christianans in approval of the action of the Storthing. In refusing the premier said:

"It is too early to claim a victory which has not yet been definitely found. Our most serious difficulties are probably ahead."

Thousands of telegrams from all parts of the world are pouring in on the premier and the Storthing, many of them coming from the United States and South Africa.

King Oscar is quoted as saying that he would avoid a war. Officials here say that the king and Crown Prince had been fully prepared for the action of the Storthing by Premier Michelson, who informed them prior to his majesty's veto of the consular bill as to what plan Norway intended to take.

Stockholm, Sweden, June 10.—King Oscar decided at a meeting of the council of state Friday to summon the Riksdag for an extraordinary session June 30. The Crown Prince was present at the sitting, which had before it the resolution of the Norwegian Storthing, which the premier denounced as revolutionary.

"By this revolutionary proceeding,' said the premier, "the Storthing has, not only without the co operation of the king but without the least consideration of Sweden and on its own authority, determined upon the rupture of the union which existed by virtue of a mutual convention drawn up in accordance with the laws and which can in no way be broken with out the assent of the two countries, inasmuch as the resolution of the Storthing is a great and profound violation of the rights of Sweden, it is indisputably necessary that the Riksday should be summoned in extraordinary session without delay to deliberate on the measure to be taken by Sweden in view of what has passed."

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison, (Kan.,) Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Kiowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in this office to-day, we asked him about it. He says he had terrible pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach trouble Just as surely as the sun shines yo s. stomach can be brought back to ur original pure condition and life sweetened by this lasting and truly the greatest digestant known. Enforcing New Factory Law.

Deputy State Factory Inspector J. H. Faries appeared in Jersey Shore Wednesday and saw that the provisions of the new child labor law were adhered to. The Jersey Shore Herald says: The inspector visited many business places which heretofore have not required his attention. In each instance where he found children under fourteen years of age employed he requested the employer to get rid of them at once. At the silk mill Inspector Faries found quite a number of hands at work who came under the new law, and these were promptly sent home.

The Thirty Sixth Annual Convention of Centre County Sabbath School Association.

The thirty sixth annual convention of the Centre County Sabbath School Association convened in Millheim Wednesday, May 31, and Tuesday, June 1, 1905.

The weather was rainy; but it had no affect on the attendance for the delegates came from all directions.

The convention was called to order by the president in the Lutheran church at 9.30 a. m. and praise services were conducted by Rev. H. C. Bixler, of Rebersburg.

At eleven o'clock the subject, "The Ideal Sunday School Teacher," was opened by Rev. A. M. Schmidt, of Bellefonte, and discussed further by Miss Ermina Lincoln, Rev. Crittenden and Mr. W. G. Landes. Punctuality, Enthusiasm. Perseverance, Patience, and careful preparation of the lessons were emphasized and it became a discussion that all present were interested in. The thought of writing letters to the absent scholars was given as being very helpful.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Convention was called to order at 2 o'clock in the Lutheran church.

Mr. Landes was given the first period to present the Pennsylvania Herald before the delegates of the convention and urged as many as possible to subscribe for it.

The Sec'y, E. K. Smith, made a few remarks in reference to gathering more money by individual subscriptions for to carry on the work.

The next period was given to Mr. Landes to give his address on the subject of "The Issue or a Side Issue, Which ?" It led us to increase the importance of Sunday school efforts and the utter foolishness of going at it in a half hearted way.

Dr. W. H. Schuyler, of Centre Hall, was called by the president to open the discussion on the subject "Should Children be Taught to Give or Receive at Christmas Time ?" He emphasized the selfishness of sin and impressed the convention with the importance of being careful with the conducting of the Christmas festivities. Rev. Pifer, of Milesburg, made an interesting talk on this subject by saying that he was there to help and to be helped and urged us to feed the soul and the mind of the pupil, rather than strengthen their animal matter. Rev. Crittenden gave a talk in behalf of the poor children at this season of the year.

Miss Lincoln gave an address on "Nothing but a Child." She held the close attention of all present from the first to the last and impressed them all with the important lesson taught by Our Saviour when He said "Suffer the little children to come unto Me for such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Wednesday evening the convention was called to order in the Methodist church by the president at 7.30 and the building was crowded to its utmost capacity.

Praise services were led by Rev. S. A. Snyder, of Rebersburg.

"The Department with a Hole in it" proved to be an interesting address given by Mr. Landes. It contained many helpful suggestions along the most difficult phrase of Sunday school work. It is hoped that the patience of Sunday school workers will win to the life of godliness many a "Wiggling Boy and Giggling Girl." Mr. Landes held his audience spell bound for more than an hour and proved himself capably of mastering his subject.

Rev. A. C. Lathrop, of Milesburg, gave an interesting talk on "The Sunday School Teacher's Chief Aim." It shall be Salvation.

Thursday morning the convention was called to order by the president in the Reformed church at 8.45.

Praise services were led by Rev. Frank Wetzel, of Rebersburg.

Dr. W. H. Schuyler offered a resolution that we change the name of Sunday school to Bible school. The matter is to be brought before the different church boards. After considerable discussion the resolution was adopted.

T. M. Gramley and Rev. Lauffer made a brief report of the work done at the last State Convention.

Rev. Carver, of Walker, opened the discussion on the "Modern Sunday School." We must have the grace of God with us in our schools as it was given to Abraham. All persons should be prepared to take an active part in the work when they come to the Sunday school room.

Rev. I. M. Rearick in a few words told of the great success that was accomplished in Sabbath school work in his home county of Snyder, which is the banner county of the State.

Rev. J. M. Boal D. D,, of Centre Hall, opened his address on "The Holy Spirit and the Sunday School Teacher." He made a heart touching address and one that will be remembered by all present for time to come. He urged a careful study of the sixteenth chapter of the Gospel of St John. We must have the Divine Guidance of the Holy Spirit in the work of the Master.

Rev. Crittenden in a few well chosen heart touching words gave thanks to Dr. Boal for his most excellent address and prayed God's blessing to rest upon him for years to come.

Convention was called to order in the Evangelical church at 2 o'clock.

Miss Lincoln made her concluding talk and impressed all with the importance of having a vision in view that they wanted to meet,

The following named persons were chosen as delegates to the State Convention that will meet in Philadelphia in October: Prof C. L. Gramley, Rev. A. C Lathrop, A. Lukenbach, Rev. G W. McIlnay, Mrs. Chas. Krape, Mr, Gordon Williams, Prof. H. N. Myer, Mrs. D A. Grove, Mrs. C A. Roger and Miss Mary Twitmyer. The delegates were instructed to pledge for Centre county to State work. $100.

At this time the convention took up individual pledges to the amount of $50.

Dr. W. H. Schuyler, of Centre Hall, made a ten minute talk on "Our Responsibility to the Orphans."

Rev. Daniel Gress made a brief talk on the importance of memorizing Scripture

Prof. C. L. Gramley made a brief talk on the "Ideal Sunday School Teacher."

The nominating committee made their report at this time and the following officers were declared elected for the ensuing year: President, C. L. Gramley; vice-president, Dr, W. U. Schuyler. Sec'y, Rev A. G. Latbrop; treasurer, A. Lukenbach; primary Supt., Miss Minerva Rhinehart; Normal Supt., Rev. Frank Lauffer; Home Dept. Supt., Rev, A. M. Schmidt.

Convention was called to order at 7.45 p. m. in the Evangelical church. Praise services were led by Dr. Schuyler.

Rev. Chas. A. Oliver, of York, was introduced and made a most excellent address to the Normal class that graduated at Aaronsburg this spring. The noblest work of man is to save man. Man to work for Christ must be trained. Moses spent eighty years in training for his work. Christ spent thirty years in training for three years work. The teacher to be successful must know our things. He must know the Lord, He must know the Bible, He must know the principles of teaching. He must know the scholars.

The names of the graduates are; Rev. Frank Lauffer, Mrs. Frank Lauffer, Mrs. Kate Philips, Misses Tammie and Mazie Haffley, Ruth Swabb, Nellie Mingle, Jennie Rupp, Maggie Weaver. Ralph, Lloyd and Clymer Stover, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stover, Henry D. Krape and W. J. Krape.

The retiring president, Rev. J. M. Rearick, made a short address thanking the convention for the honor they had bestowed upon him in selecting him as their leader for four years and hoped that greater work would be accomplished in the years to come.

We must speak of the music and give thanks to the choir and their leader. The music used were the Psalms that were used at the State convention last fall. Special mention must be made of the solos. One sang by Mr. Landes entitled "Tell me more of Christ" another one sung by Mrs. Theresa Stover "Rock of Ages" and the duet sang by Miss Mae Miller, Mrs. H. N. Myer, Dr. F. S. Frank and Prof. H. N Myer,

Dr. D. G. Smith Honored.

At the fifty-first annual convention of the Illinois State Medical Society, Dr. D. G. Smith, of Elizabeth, was elected as one of the five delegates from Illinois to the American Medical Association at Portland, Oregon, in July. This is considered quite an honor as there are only one hundred and sixty delegates in America and the places are usually given the physicians in the larger cities. Dr. Smith will carry his honors easily and all his friends wish him a pleasant journey when he takes the trip through the west.

The above is taken from the News, published at Elizabeth, Illinois. Dr. Smith is a native of Penn Hall, and is married to Miss Emma Heckman, daughter of Wm. Heckman, deceased near Centre Hall.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper was a most crafty Roman, but he made one mistake.

DON'T BE WOOZY!

NERO

He committed suicide at the wrong end of his life,

He should have shuffled off at the beginning.

A great many business men today are committing business suicide at the wrong end of their lives.

They mean well at the start, but drift away from their good resolutions

One means or a long and prosperous business life is to have good printing and stationery.

A business is judged by its reading matter.

THE REPUBLICAN

Job Printing Department is prepared to furnish the best.

Cost is a secondary consideration when you consider the quality—sufficient it is to say our prices are so reasonable that it would be a waste of shoe leather to look further.

It has a distinctiveness all its own—a something that distinguishes it from the common trash of the ordinary shop.

Again we say:

"Don't be Woozy."

Think it over and for your next order, remember the

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—Look 'em over—the advertisements. They're money savers.

—Gas has wakened up the people of Philadelphia, which is the opposite to the effect usually produced by gas.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Houser are rejoicing over the arrival of a little girl baby at their home in this place.

—The fragrant memory of many a heroic deed was borne to heaven with the perfume of flowers of Memorial day.

—America is ahead again. The yacht "Atlantic" has captured the Kaiser's cup and it will doubtless stay on this side of the ocean.

—First we had Roosevelt's Strenuous Life, next we had Parson Wagner's Simple Life, and now we have Hyde's Equitable Life.

—Philadelphia and the Japs are attracting notice these days and the troubles of Chicago and the Equitable get but scant attention.

—The W. C. T. U. observed national Flower Mission Day on Friday last by sending out 16 bouquets to the Hospital and sick in town.

—Senator E. A. Irvin, of Curwensville, who has been on the sick list for several weeks, is spending a few days at Atlantic City.

—The frost of many winters may whiten a farmer's hair, but the frost that kills his fruit is the one that makes his hair stand on end.

—It was cruel of the author of the new marriage law to require that both the contracting parties should made oath that they are not crazy before a license could be granted.

—In three days Japan destroyed almost $100,000,000 worth of Russian ships War is not only hell, as General Sherman said, but modern warfare is somewhat expensive to the losing side.

—William P. Kuhn, of Bellefonte, has been appointed District Deputy Grand Master of the Knights of the Golden Eagle for this district, which comprises eighteen castles in Centre county.

—The Pennsylvania state encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic closed a very interesting session at Reading Thursday afternoon. It was voted to hold the next session at Altoona.

—Lord Curzon has laid the foundation stone of the Agricultural College at Pusa. This college and experiment station were made possible by a gift of $150,000 which Mr. Henry Phipps gave Lord Curzon to use for the good of the people of India.

—The value of a paper as an advertising medium depends more upon the readers it reaches than the number of copies printed. Circulation is more than mere distribution and has a value and permanence that counts in a business.

—Philipsburg is rejoicing because a contract has been closed whereby that town is to get a new garment factory. The plant will have a capacity for employing 350 people and will add to the prosperity of that place. The stock of the company is $50,000

—The annual meeting of the state Fisheries Association bill be held at Bellefonte Fish Hatchery June 21-23 The program provides for three business meetings, excursions to the Country Club, Penn Cave and other places of interest and one day's fishing in the various streams of Centre county.

—Mr. C. P. Stewart a Junior at State College died Sunday afternoon at that institution. He had been ill only two days with what was supposed to be appendicitis and was operated upon Saturday. He never rallied but sank gradually until he passed away Sunday afternoon. The remains were taken Monday to his home in Pittsburg where interment will be made.

—An incipient fire on the roof of the jail kitchen, about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, caused considerable excitement but luckily the blaze was promptly extinguished without doing any damage worth mentioning. Harvey Miller, the tinner, was at work on the building when his stove set fire to the roof. He kicked the stove down into the yard and with a few buckets of water soon extinguished the blaze.

—Mrs. Susan Gibson, the oldest and wealthiest resident of Jamestown, Pa., died at her home there Tuesday. She was eighty-seven years old and was the widow of Dr. William Gibson, widely known throughout western Pennsylvania as a physician and to many as the "Doctor" in Mark Twain's book, "Innocents Abroad." Mrs. Gibson was a member of the "Quaker City" party, the adventures of which during the tour of Europe and the Holy land formed the material for Mark Twain's most famous book.

—Governor Pennypacker, Thursday appointed Andrew S. McCreath of Harrisburg, a member of the state geological and topographical survey commission to succeed John M. Scott, of Philadelphia, who was recently appointed and declined —Eddie F. Hill, the Bellefonte boy who holds the gunner's record in the U. S. navy and who is now home on a furlough, was married at 6 o'clock Thursday in St. John's Episcopal church, to Miss Stella Snyder. Rev. George Israel Brown performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hill left this morning on a brief wedding tour.

—Lord Rayleigh is about to retire from the professorship of natural philosophy at the Royal Institution which he has held for eighteen years. He will be made honorary professor. Lord Rayleigh has given twenty-three Friday evening discourses and twenty-one courses of afternoon lectures at the institution.

—Governor Pennypacker Thursday evening appointed Judge John Stewart of Chambersburg to the State Supreme court vacancy created by the recent death of Justice John Dean, of Hollidaysburg, until the first Monday of next January, when he will be recommissioned for the full term of 21 years, if he shall be elected in November. It is conceded that he will be nominated by the republican state committee for the full term.

—Mrs. Rebecca Elois Gray, wife of John C. Gray, died at her home in Beaver Falls, on Monday, June 5th, aged 73 years. Deceased was a native of Centre county. She was an aunt of ex-judge John G. Love, of this place, and a sister-in law of Mrs. Sarah Gray, of Buffalo Run. Surviving her are her husband and two daughter, Alice Maywood and Gertrude Lorens. The funeral was held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

—John H. Woomer, of Bellefonte, and L. E. Zimmerman, of Milesburg, have been appointed agents for the Prudential Life Insurance company. The offices of the company are room 10, Crider's Exchange. J. E. Neff, of Milesburg, is assistant superintendent for this company. In Messrs. Woomer and Zimmerman we believe the company have secured first class reliable men who will prove a success at the business.

—It has been announced that the Pennsylvania Railroad will spend $2,000,000 for the construction of two tunnels through Bergen Hill, N. J., to connect with those under the Hudson River. The new tunnels will be "twins," and will each be a mile and a quarter long. Recently the New York Board of Aldermen gave the same interests a franchise to extend the tunnel under Sixth avenue to Thirty-third St. and under Ninth St. to Second Ave.

—Brillium is the name of a new fuel recently invented by a Brooklyn man. At the testing department of the Brooklyn Heights Railroad, this fuel was used in connection with locomotive cinders from the Lackawanna Railroad, and about 10 per cent, of No. 3 buckwheat coal; 44 pounds of brillium per ton of cinders were used. A net evaporation of 6.12 pounds of water from and at 212° was obtained from each pound of fuel. The evaporation of the buckwheat coal ordinarily used is about 6.75

—Dr. J. Angel, the celebrated eye specialist from Williamsport, who has been serving the people of Centre Co. for years, will be at the Brockerhoff House, Bellefonte, for one day only on Thursday, June 29, from 9 o'clock a. m. to 5 o'clock p. m. He comes to make the blind almost see, weak eyes strong and otherwise fix you up in good shape as hundreds of our readers well know for he has done it for them. Remember the date, Thursday, June 20, from 9 o'clock a. m. to 5 p. m. for this one day only.

—Sir Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador, has informed Secretary Taft that the British Government had, at the Secretary's invitation, selected Chief Engineer Hunter, the builder of the Manchester Ship Canal, to act as one of the consulting engineers of the Panama Canal Board. Mr. Hunter has signified his willingness to serve. Mr. Hunter attained considerable fame in the engineering world by his work in connection with the Manchester canal. This enterprise, while costing less than the Suez Canal, was vastly more difficult from an engineering point of view. Mr. Hunter is expected here in August. The French and German engineers who will be his colleagues have not yet been nominated.

—Mr. Andrew Carnegie does himself infinite credit by his peremptory refusal to have anything to do with improvements in Pittsburg, which would bring him even into remote connection with the liquor traffic. The point came up in connection with the proposed erection of a building in that city which would include among its features an ordinary bar-room. Mr. Carnegie said that he would not lend his name or money to anything connected with the liquor trade. If all financiers and capitalists who are called upon to invest money in real estate, and who derive a part of their incomes from this source, would draw the line against the liquor traffic as Mr. Carnegie has done, the cause of temperance should make an immense stride forward.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a fair in Paul Sheffers store next Saturday afternoon.

—The big Logan picnic is less than a week away and you don't want to forget it, but reserve that day for the Logans.

—Children's Day will be observed in the United Brethren church Sunday June 18th an elaborate program is being prepared.

—Mr. and Mrs. Neal Martin, of South Allegheny St., are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing baby girl which arrived at their home Tuesday afternoon.

—G. W. Rees, deputy revenue collector, will be at his office in Crider's stone building Bellefonte June 26 to 29 where applicants can receive their special tax stamps for the coming year. On Friday June 23rd he will be at Philipsburg where the same business can be transacted.

—J. H. Gross has succeeded the late Wm. Hart as agent for Wanamaker & Brown in Bellefonte and will conduct the same in connection with his tailoring business at store on High street. He would be pleased to see any of Wanamaker & Brown's old customers.

—The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal church at Snow Shoe have made arrangements to serve dinner and supper in the basement of their church on the 4th of July. You are assured of a good square meal if you attend either or both, the dinner and supper, prepared by these ladies of Snow Shoe.

WANTED—A young man of intelligence, correct habits and good address to represent the Prudential as a collector and solicitor in Bellefonte and vicinity. Reference required. Good wages to the proper party, with elegant opportunity for advancement. Address J. E Neff ass't. superintendent, Room 16 Crider's Exchange, Bellefonte. d-1t.

—John D. Hall, who has been passenger conductor on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania ever since it was built, has tendered his resignation to take effect this Thursday, June 15th. It is Mr. Hall's intention to retire from railroading, for a time at least, and go to Atlantic City where his family have been living the past few years, and assist Mrs. Hall in conducting their new hotel "The Hallwoode."

—Ray D. Gilliland, of Snow Shoe, is in charge of the Prescription department at Krumrine's Pharmacy during the proprietors absence on a business trip to Philadelphia and New York. Mr. Gilliland is a student at the U. of P., Philadelphia, and during the summer is W. A. Sickle's right hand man at the Mountain Pharmacy, Snow Shoe. He is all right and fully capable of handling Mr. Krumrine's business durhis absence —In one of the windows of Frank P. Blair's jewelry store can be seen a splendid likeness of the late Mrs. C. T. Gerberich. It is a pastel painting and is the work of the well known Philadelphia portrait painters, Antrim & Landsey. Perfect in every detail of coloring and artistic effect, the painting is true to life as is possible to make. M. A. Landsey, who represents the firm in this city, is receiving many compliments on this portrait of Mrs. Gerberich.

Officers in charge.

A Smooth Swindler.

There are a few people in the world who do not lack nerve, as the following taken from the Philadelphia Press proves. The article will be of special interest to people of this section, as Mr. Irish is a member of the firm of Irish Bros., of Philipsburg.

An adroit stranger succeeded in selling the entire household effects of J. Bird Irish, of West Main street, in Norristown. Mr. Irish's family is away and he is occupying quarters in a nearby hotel. Two wagon-loads of Mr. Irish's furniture were removed by T. W. Dannehower, a secondhanded furniture dealer, and the entire effects of the home would have been removed but for the rain.

A man who represented himself as a son of Mr. Irish's called on the secondhand dealer early in the day and took him to the home of Mr. Irish, which is in the hands of mechanics undergoing repairs. The man told Mr. Dannehower that Mr. Irish wished to sell the contents of the house as he intended to refurnish it. A bargain was struck for the furniture on condition that it be removed at once.

On account of the rain all the goods could not be removed that day and when Mr. Dannehower called for the first load, the following day Mr. Irish was present.

After the goods had been removed several neighbors asked Mr Irish why he was selling practically new household goods. He thought the matter a joke and decided to interview the man who was hauling his goods away Explanations followed with the result that the goods which had been removed were returned. The police are looking for the man who sold the goods. Mr. Dannehower refuses to tell how much he paid for the furniture.

Paternity of the Navy.

From the Springfield Republican.

A controversy has already been begun as to whether Paul Jones was actually "the father of the American navy," and the honor of the title is claimed rather for John Barry, of Philadelphia, who was appointed by the marine committee of the Colonial congress to be captain of the Lexington, the first armed cruiser of the colonies, with which he made the first capture of a British vessel, the Edward. It is not necessary to call Jones "the father" of the navy or of anything else, and the title is only a sounding phrase. But as a matter of fact, a pretty fair argument might be made for Jones' right to the title on the strength of his very remarkable reports, made to congress on the request of that body, in regard to the vessels of which it was the wisest to compose our navy, and in regard to our naval organization. There were many better patriots in the navy than Jones, and so if a title must be given him, let it be that of which there can be no question and which deals solely with efficiency, namely, "our first great sea captain," for that he was—and possibly greater, too, in sheer ability, than any that has come after him.

Dauchy & Company's Newspaper Catalogue.

The 1905 edition of this well known work has reached us. This is the fifteenth year of its publication and this edition is fully up to the high standard set by its predecessors, typographically and otherwise. It contains 750 closely printed pages, well bound in red cloth, and is a mine of information for all who are interested in the periodical publications of the United States and Canada, of which it contains a complete list. Its arrangement is most compact and convenient, and it contains one feature contained in no other newspaper directory, the space of memoranda against the name of each publication in which advertisers can keep a record of their contracts in compact and accessible shape. The price is $5.00, of the publishers, Messrs. Dauchy & Co. 9 Murray St., New York, or of booksellers.

Joy Turned to Sorrow.

On Friday, May 26th, Dr. L. M. Holloway, of Salona, arrived at Akron, O., on a visit to his mother and brother. The same morning Rev. H. C. Holloway, of Bellefonte, reached Akron, neither one having any knowledge of the other's visit. The next day, Saturday, their brother, E. P. Holloway, complained of a bad headache; Sunday morning he was too indisposed to get up. He gradually grew worse until noontime when he became unconscious and at 2 o'clock he died. Thus what was anticipated to be a trip of pleasure was one of exceptional sorrow. Deceased was 64 years of age and well known in Centre county.

Organization of the School Board.

The school board was organized Wednesday for the year beginning Monday, June 6, inst., by the election of Hon. Wm. C. Heinle president, D. F. Fortney, secretary, and A. C. Mingle, treasurer. After the organization was completed the board unanimously elected John D.
